

Genzyme Corporation and Mimotopes Website Privacy Statement

We take your privacy and security very seriously. This notice explains how we process your information.

When you provide personal information to us, you consent to our use of your information for administration, marketing and customer service. We will not disclose your information to any person or organisation outside Genzyme or Mimotopes.

When you visit our website or any of its related links, we may install a cookie file on your computer. A cookie is a small file that can be placed on your computer's hard disk for identification, profiling or record keeping purposes. While you are not obliged to accept cookies and you may modify your browser so that it will not accept cookies, you do so with the knowledge that you may not be able to proceed, access or operate parts of this website and or its related links.

By returning or submitting a form with any personal information to us, you consent to our processing your personal data. You have a right to ask for a copy of your information (for which we may charge a small fee) and to correct any inaccuracies.